

San Antonio is looking forward to hosting your upcoming meeting. The attendees will enjoy one of the country's truly warm, authentic destinations. We treat our visitors like family, ensuring their comfort and safety as a priority.

Visit San Antonio is actively monitoring all developments regarding COVID-19. We continue to be assured by officials of all involved agencies that the risk to San Antonio residents and visitors remains very low. Every available precaution is being taken to protect the community, including Mayor Ron Nirenberg's emergency health declaration Monday that seeks to ensure that the coronavirus evacuees in quarantine at Joint Base San Antonio-Lackland remain on the military base and undergo adequate testing before being cleared to leave.

San Antonio remains a warm and welcoming – and safe – destination. If you have any questions about the coronavirus and the city's response to it, please visit www.sanantonio.gov.
